An extensive line of flexible enema tips and barium irrigation bags

Our extensive line of enema tips (colon tips) is used to bring in barium through the patient's rectum during a lower gastrointestinal examination. (contrast colon examination) The flexible enema tips are olive-shaped and available in various sizes, with or without a silicon balloon or air insufflation. A special paediatric enema tip is also available. Enema tips are available single, or as a complete ready to use set, and are made out of a medical graded Vinyl-Plastisol.

Are you looking for a single enema tip or a complete set including a barium irrigation bag, foam pad and integral balloon? Please do not hesitate to contact us any time.
